

WARNING

Wild Parsnip & Common Hogweed are growing on site. These plants are photo-toxic. Avoid contact with the skin on sunny days – chemicals in the sap make the skin burn when exposed to sunlight.

The burns are painful and take a long time to heal. On sunny days please keep to the paths & cover skin. If you touch the sap of Wild Parsnip or Common Hogweed, cover the affected area and wash it with soap and water. (Please note there is no Giant Hogweed here.)

*Burns can develop into phytophotodermatitis.
If you feel unwell after contact speak to your doctor.*
